

Joshua Martineau
Deputy Director for Counterintelligence
Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence U.S. Department of Energy

Mr. Martineau currently serves as the Deputy Director for Counterintelligence for the Department of Energy's Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence.

Mr. Martineau previously established and led the Defense Counterintelligence and Security Agency's (DCSA) Expedited Screening mission from 2019-2024, which developed and executed a centralized process for the screening and vetting of individuals with foreign risk requiring access to the Department of Defense (DoD) and three non-DoD agencies. The Expedited Screening Center received the 2020 National Counterintelligence and Security Center (NCSC) Insider Threat Detection Team Award for its support to International Military Student screening following the attack on Pensacola Naval Air Station in December 2019.

Prior to DCSA, Mr. Martineau served as an Army Counterintelligence (CI) Agent for 23 years, where he excelled in various leadership and operational positions at multiple echelons. He served in the Department of the Army G-2 (Pentagon) as the Branch Chief for Army CI Activities, Policy and Insider Threat Branch, managing a diverse portfolio supporting world-wide Army CI activities while supporting the development of the Army's Insider Threat program. Mr. Martineau also led the team piloting the new foreign screening process, which received the 2019 NCSC Insider Threat Detection Award and served as the foundation for DCSA's Expedited Screening mission.

Mr. Martineau previously served as the Operations Officer and Senior Civilian of the Army's largest operational CI battalion and managed the investigations and operations of over 60 operational CI offices. Mr. Martineau also served as an operational CI Agent in the Army's Military Intelligence Civilian Excepted Career Program, culminating with his position as the Special Agent in Charge of the Fort Meade Military Intelligence Detachment.

Prior to his service as an Army Civilian, Mr. Martineau proudly served as a Soldier in the United States Army. He earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management from Southern New Hampshire University and a Master of Arts in Intelligence Management from American Military University.

Mr. Martineau resides in Maryland with his wife and three children.
